Also, the Chevy 1500 is a safe car to use because all models come with front air bags with passenger sensing systems. They supplement the seatbelt system perfectly in case of a full-frontal collision, and will sense the severity of the crash, deciding whether the airbags should be deployed or not. All models come with a standard StabiliTrak System, XM Radio, OnStar, Dual glove boxes and a tire pressure monitor. Think that's all? Those are the features for the most basic Chevy model, the WT.
